great past

i have read "chariots of gods" . i find our indian past goes very relavent with this theory that gods were the astronauts. in old indian "vedas" we find many hints that match with this theory. in sanskrit word "vimana" means the airplane. also it means "temple". & stunningly we find that these temples resemble a rocket or the projector for the satellite. so are these temple-colonies the replicas of colonies used by these astronauts?

Why Not?

I am currently reading Von Danikens first book "Chariots of the The Gods" Ad my personal opinion is.....Why Not?Erich has a Valid point made many times in his thought provoking and interesting book which is,just because man PERCIEVES it to be impossible or is told it is impossible, that we -like lambs- believe these teachings and take them as gospel and even worse do not question these findings. I personally hope the text Von Daniken produces is true it sure is better ,and more believable to me than an unproven belief in 'GOD' or what ever supreme being has your belief.
