Reader Comments

Regarding ""Contact" (1997 movie)" - Latest First

God, the universe, and technology

I'm confused by those who think if you believe in "aliens" or others in the universe, that means you DON'T believe in "god". As for you non-Zecharia Sitchin readers, it's quite possible, that the "god(s)" in the Bible are NOT the creator(s) of the universe. Having the "god(s)" in the bible be the true creator of the universe would leave out a lot of the "middle game" in this chess game which is the understanding of the universe. I can't believe we go from understanding virtually nothing in the universe to being with god for eternity once we die.

Sagans Gaps

In one of the reviews, Carl Sagan is said to have commented about his gap theory where we evoke God to explain any gaps we can't explain. The same huge gaps exist in the theory of evolution, where "missing link" is the catch word to "explain" scientific lack of explanation. If there was tiny spec of mass before the "big bang" how did it get "there" and "where"?

-- artee 8/11/97 (#6)

apples and oranges

The negative comment listed above is comparing apples to oranges. The individual in question set up a straw man argument and then passed out books of matches. This is a science-FICTION movie! While God is real and the Bible can be found to be divine in nature by any open minded jury in a court of law.

contact 97 alternative 4

the movie was great! people need to understand that planet earth is in iots final chapter. faith is all weve got! arth is in deep trouble . all we have is faith!when famine and disease strike the human race it will be too late to turn back!
