Giant Rock & the Integratron

Giant Rock and the Integratron are located close to each other about 15 miles north of Yucca Valley, Calif. (about 2 hours from Los Angeles). Giant Rock is a huge boulder on public land that was the site of many UFO gatherings in the 1950s, where believers expected flying saucers to land. The Integratron is a domed building three miles away. It was build by George Van Tassel to channel healing energy. [an error occurred while processing this directive]

Van Tassel Exposed

While visiting Van Tassel's Cafe years ago, a lady-friend read the displayed bio in California Who's Who about Van Tassel. It mentioned his employment on the staff of Howard Hughes. Her father had been Hughe's personal aircraft mechanic. Later she question her father. His response was, "That idiot! Where did you come accross him?" He had indeed known Van Tassel, and Van Tassel had told them of a money-making scheme he was considering: a story about his personal contact with a UFO !
