Regarding "Crop Circles" - Latest First

crop circles

Crop circles have been hoaxed all over england but a small percentage still seem to be legit.All over the world they are appearing.My theory is that crop circles are time markers for time travelers. Obviously people would wonder how.Perhaps a particular latt. and long. coordinates would be the common place to identify the sign post. The scan over to see a certain symbol which they would know to be a certain year.Perhaps so sort of beacon is placed to direct them to these sign post. Say Stonehenge or the pyramids?

Crops and circles

What do the farmers think about all this? Crop circle hoaxers might reflect that a seemingly small trampled area can wipe out a farmer's profit from a field. I can understand the urge to work a hoax--the gullible are juicy targets--but vandalism isn't funny.
