Abstract: "I show how a minor modification of the Alcubierre geometry can dramatically improve the total energy requirements for a `warp bubble' that can be used to transport macroscopic objects. A spacetime is presented for which the total negative mass needed is only in the order of grams, accompanied by a negligible amount of positive energy."

Regarding "UFO Physics and Propulsion Systems" - Latest First

Anti-matter Prepulsion

Infinite prepulsion is theoretically possible to achieve if one uses an antimatter engine, that which when first "jumping" into "warp" or whatever you would like to call it, requires a jump, and then an anti-gravitational generator would be required to neutralize.

why use massive power when it isnt necessary if u were to use massive ammounts of energy then u would defeat the purpos of travle in the outer reagon of space but if u could use a very small amount of energy and get a resonable larg reaction or attain a black hole within a containment field of small equivlent proportion and use it to create wormholes as u wanted to direct them then u would be able to travle millions of light years in a matter of nanoseconds

Multiple System Technology?

From observable characteristics related to many UFO sightings I believe there are at least two systems in operation on UFO's in a near earth environment. One would involve the use of high-voltage capacitance to achieve a "neutral bouyancy". The other a field generation engine with a focusable beam(s) to provide horizontal/vertical "drive".

Neutrinic jet

1. Two wellknown physical laws don`t leason with the mass: gravity/acceleration of free down is invariant to mass/ and atomic decay /tame of halfdecay is invariant to mass/ so gravity is based on neutrinic interractions and counterinterraction. 2. UFO jets are neutrinic jets.
