>Certainly Sean. Nice to see someone really doing some thinking

I do like to think, many thanks.

I have found this to be the case with many "religious" people. I myself believe in God, and will continue to do so even when I shake the hand of the first "alien" that offers it, BUT My argument is and shall remain, Where in the Bible does it say that God only created life here on Earth? To my knowledge it does not. It has been "suggested" that perhaps Jesus himself was in fact an alien, now this I find extremely insulting.

>Good point!

Thanks.

>Yes, if these are special effects dummies, the person/persons who >made them are nothing short of genius.

I'd have to agree with that.

I bow to your expert opinion :-)

Lets pray that it does eventually does.

Yes it does does'nt it.

>The creatures shown in the film are not grays. In life they were said to be >pink, and turning grayish after death. Just as human corpses do.
Still does'nt quite answer the question, How would you describe us as "humans" to an Alien race?

>>over it ever since.

>Many believe that the film is real

I would like it to be.

>and is an intentional release by >the US Govt or by some group within the Govt. Yes, your scenario and I totally agree with this argument.

>Yes, Sean, so am I. And it is likely that so are these little Hmmm...

I am a passenger on this spaceship, Earth
