

ParaScope. (We can neither confirm nor deny this rumor.) Enjoy!

"Yes it is true. The CIA have taken controll of parascope. Either they have broke in on their head quarters and seized thier materials or Bill Gates (VADER) and his Master Controll Program have taken controll of the web-addresses.

They are playing psycholigy games on me trying to make me think I am crazy.

Last night Planes flew over my house with 3 lights in a triangle. The two in the back were white and the one in front was red...

SATAN has no power over me. I am not a coward. I love Jehovah and his Son Jesus Christ. Become a Jehovah's Witness before it is two late."

Mark Fuhrman an Avid ParaScope Reader

Imagine our surprise here at the ParaScope Central Command Compound when we were watching the syndicated TV show "Strange Universe" this week and caught former LAPD Det. Mark Fuhrman discussing Waco, Ruby Ridge, Roswell and even ghosts. But wait, it gets weirder. In close to a dozen shots, Fuhrman was furtively hovering over a laptop computer with the ParaScope web site pulled up in his AOL browser. Some members have demanded we invite Fuhrman to write a column or host a chat for us. Think we're crazy? We'll be conducting a ParaPoll on just this subject next week, so keep your eyes peeled for that poll question and let us know what you think!

Coming Up Next Week!

Catch all these stories next week on a daily basis on America Online, or all at once next Thursday on the web site!

Monday, August 11: Conspiracy Newsline

If you're not paranoid yet, you need to pay closer attention. What kind of shady backroom deals was Ron Brown engaged in before his death? Does a California marijuana legalization activist stand a chance in the Republican gubernatorial primaries? What was Apple co-founder Steve Jobs thinking when he announced his unholy alliance with the Beast of biblical prophecy, also known as Bill Gates? Is the United Nations robbing American citizens of money, freedom, sovereignty and political self-determination? It's all in the Newsline, updated daily!

Tuesday, August 12: UFOs Vs. The Peacock Throne: The Story of the Teheran "Dogfight"

The vast majority of UFO reports lack any significant evidentiary value. But sometimes our nocturnal wanderers are not so easily identified. One of the most impressive UFO cases on record occurred on the night of September 18 and 19, 1976, over Teheran, Iran, where Iranian fighter jets intercepted an unidentified flying object. Did the "Teheran Dogfight" bring the Iranian military face-to-face with extraterrestrials? Or was it actually some sort of covert operation?

Wednesday, August 13: Did the Government Lie to the Public About UFOs? New Revelations In a CIA-published Study

During the heated international imbroglio that was the Cold War, the government lied to the public about hundreds of UFO sightings. Says who? A historian from the U.S. intelligence community, that's who. A newly published article in the CIA journal "Studies In Intelligence" explains how the government misled the public about top secret spy plane flights often confused with alien craft. And that's just one of the revelations in this fascinating and controversial study. Dossier editor Jon Elliston surveys, assesses, and presents the latest, greatest government UFO report.

Thursday, August 14: Fortean Slips: Meet the Paranormal Presidents!

Hail to the Chiefs! Fortean Slips inaugurates an executive edition packed with paranormal presidents and world-leader weirdness! JFK's Blue Hawaii: Dive into the dark conspiracy surrounding a Maui rock formation that looks like Kennedy's head. Dead Commies A-Go-Go: Grab your Red Book and tag along on the rollicking modern-day adventures of the mummified corpses of Lenin and Chairman Mao. Memoirs of a French Horoscope: Learn the startling revelations of Francois Mitterand's astrologer. Clinton Touchy on "Contact": Why doesn't President Bubba like being digitally Gumpized in the big summer blockbuster? Slipsmeister D. Trull has so much presidential weirdness it'll make you want to throw up in the Japanese Prime Minister's lap!

Friday, August 15: Salute to William S. Burroughs 1914-1997

When William S. Burroughs died recently at age 83, the media could have hardly taken less notice of the passing of one of America's greatest writers and one of the most influential cultural and intellectual figures of the 20th century. The mainstream had little use for Burroughs, a lifelong heroin junky whose writings tore at the very fabric of perceived reality. Burroughs' influence on art, literature and music, though rarely acknowledged outside the fringe, nonetheless has made him a permanent fixture in the psychic landscape of America. ParaScope presents a salute to the man who gave James Joyce a run for his money, including a guide to Burroughs texts available on the Internet.
