Subject: UFO UpDates Instant Archive Now Available on Web

For your browsing pleasure, messages from UFO UpDates are now archived immediately on the web at:

<http://www.ufomind.com/ufo/updates>

The last three days' messages are listed on the main page. Older messages are listed by month. The archive was started on Dec. 12, and we hope to maintain it forever.

This automated archive is provided as a public service by the Area 51 Research Center (i.e. "me"). I wrote the software for this because I found the mailing list interesting, but I couldn't deal with the email load generated every day.

The Research Center has no control over content, and all editorial decisions are still made by Errol.

When posting messages to the list, I hope people will observe these rules in deference to the web version:

-- Make sure your subject line is as descriptive as possible. On the web, as in email, if people aren't interested in your subject line, they aren't going to look at your message.

-- Keep quoted material from previous messages to a minimum: Just quote enough text to let people know what you are responding to. [Excessive quoting will result in your message being returned to you]

-- Start each quoted line with a greater-than sign (>) as the first character. The Archive software will automatically italicize these lines.
[Messages that do not utilize the required quoting protocol will not be posted to UFO Updates]

-- Don't send 'personal' responses to the list that should be sent directly to the original author. Send a message to the list only if it it
