NEW ROSWELL EXPLANATION

RUMOR LINE FROM THE EAST COAST ----- (JUST A RUMOR)

The Air Force is coming out with a new report revealing that the crash at Roswell in 1947 was the debris from a test of a glider hanging from a Japanese FUGO Balloon. The glider held 2 Japanese engineers whose bodies were found bloated in the sun!

If this is true, the MOGUL BALLOON which did not pass the disinformation test will be replaced now with a FUGO Balloon and Glider assembly.

Better get your money back from buying Kal Korff's new Roswell book, and boy will Charles B. Moore be miffed.

Let's see now. Timeline:
1947 - weather balloon with rawin sonde crashes north of Roswell
1995-6 - TS Mogul balloon crashes with train
1997 - TS test of Fugo balloon with glider crashes; bodies are Japanese; hieroglyphic writing is Japanese

Whew! Still don't have to worry about aliens or spaceships...

Sincerely,

Bill Hamilton
