Some questions for a relative newbie

 Subject: Some questions for a relative newbie

Ok, here's a few questions I have, they'll probably sound odd but please bear with me.

- 1) Does Energy have a definate form, or more precisely light?
IT seems to me that almost all Nocturnal Lights (NLs) have a sphere shape(Earth Lights,ball lightning, etc.).
- 2) Where can I find good quality information on Physical and EM effects left by UFOs?
- 3) Also looking for some good places to purchase GOOD UFO books, most of the stuff here in TN is New Age junk, in fact the only good books I've seen here are 2 by Kevin Randle.

Finally, since this is my first most, I might as well tell you a little about myself. My name is Michael C. McCann. I run a rather large archive of UFO information which is currently on hiatus while it moves to a larger provider. I'm also a little sad I missed the UFO Golden Age, seemslike it was more "interesting" back in the 70s/80s but it's still enticing to me today.

I'm 15 and can not believe how many people my age are buying this cheap ufo/alien crap. My other interesting include programming, physics, building robots, and obviously, I like talking to my friends. I'm trying to find someone in the Nashville area to teach me a little about researching too.

Well, thanks for reading my post, I'll admit it's a little long winded but...

Michael C. McCann
