I too had dealings with Kiviat who was consistently over enthusiastic and had little concern with the truth about the "autopsy " footage.and was unwilling to pay for services rendered. He told Billy Cox a fine and very knowledgeable journalist for Florida Today that he wanted him to check things out.. no money of course.

Billy's first thought was to investigate Santilli. Horrors. no way. Just about everything Santilli told me in our first conversation turned out to be a lie.

Kiviat's people spent 4 hours with Bruce Maccabee and 3 hours with me down in DC. Kiviat used none of Bruce's analysis and used 30 seconds of my comments out of context.. He very much distorted the meaning of the experts.. partly by telling them that the film had been dated by Kodak to 1947..

Look at that terrible segment with the detective who was to find the cameraman. UGH . Not to be trusted.
