I left this in, out of context. I used to be a musician.

After tediously digging through numberless UFO reports, I found only one constant: The longer it takes to describe a UFO, in any language, the less likely it is to be a UFO.

As abrasive as Kal Korff appears to be, judging by his own words, I find his arguments rather compelling.

There is a definite need to learn more about the very real, and mysterious UFO phenomena. To do so, we must 'clear the underbrush', even though that means exposing the fakes, clowns and others with agendas tangential to finding the facts.

In short, I prefer a hacksaw to a hack.

Please do not take offense, and forgive my brevity.

Best wishes
- Larry Hatch
