Ladies & Gentlefolk,

This is the sort of email that makes it worthwhile to be subscriber!

Question:

If, as according to some theorists, the US Government is knowledgeable of who does fly these things (at least one president is supposed to have conversed with them shortly after WWII), therefore, would it not follow that they also know where they're from?

Conclusion:

If yes to the above question then the wrong research goal may be being sought in these FOIA searches >>> If they are technically no longer 'unknowns' then they must be 'knowns' - and we know how government agencies like hiding behind technicalities. It is possible that should this be the case, then, that they and their traffic records are hidden in 'known friendly alien' (as in foreign) incursion reports - or whatever terms may apply.
