AUSTRALIA WIDE SKYWATCH

Location: PERTH, UFORUM

From: Brian Richards
 To: tkbnetw@fan.net.au
 Subject: Reports and Sky Watch
 Date: Monday, 29 March 1999 18:02

Hi Di

The sky watch night didn't give away any secrets. Skies beautifully clear. No cloud cover. A couple of satellites and meteors but no anomolies.

Ciao for now
Brian

Hi Diane
Russell Boundy

We did get a little observing of the sky on Saturday night but it was overcast some of the time, and nope!!...nothing to report.

Best wishes to you for now

Regards Russell.

hi there all.

Up here, Blackheath, Blue Mountains, there was a beautiful moon with some cloud coverage. There was no activity other than that.

Well unfortunately the sky last night was overcast and drizzling. Oh well we needed the rain.

Reality is God's dream.

We too had a very clear night and a great turnout, 42 adults & 8 children attended the skywatch and fun was had by all. But like you it revealed nothing more than a few planes, shooting stars, and the odd satellite.

I would like to thank Gordie for entertaining the children and big kids with his telescope and sharing all his knowledge of the star's, I'm sure the kids will remember what they saw for a long time to come "thankyou Gordie" and also Glennys Mackay of MUFON for doing a meditation it too was great everyone enjoyed the relaxation. Thank you Glennys.

A big thank you must go to Peter Johnson for he was the one who suggested we all do the Australia Wide Skywatch thankyou "Peter it was a great idea and maybe we should do them every 4 months.

Looking into the heavens is where you will find the truth and if the truth is out there you will see it one day, take care all and keep on looking <S>
