My explanation of the Socorro case...

I believe Zamora saw a flying tattooed elephant experiencing an intestinal disorder known as meteorism. I leave to your imagination (pun intended) how some huge fart got ignited.

This explanation - which I hereby copyright - covers every angle of Zamora's sighting: the size of the thing, the roar, the exhaust. You name it.

The landing marks? Come on: you can't winch up a crashed elephant into thin air. I propose four 30 foot beams chained together by amateurs to lift the dead elephant and put it in the back of a truck.

Fits the bill.

>Oh, alright, I'm a pelicanist and proud!

What exactly do you pride yourself in?

Honesty?

Coherence?

Pelicanism?
