As usual this list has shown its propensity for jumping the gun and jumping to conclusions (sometimes its the only exercise I get, too!). I did not state, assert, insinuate, declare, or assume that some underlying condition was the cause of these claims. I had merely asked whether anyone had seriously looked into the prospect that it may be a cause in some individuals.

Can you honestly assert that everyone who makes such claims is fully compis mentis and has actually experienced everything they say they did? If so then Olly North and Tricky Dicky must be totally innocent . . .

Regards,
Leanne ];-)
