Here's an URL that will answer some of the questions brought to the fore by this subject:

NASA's "J-Track" Site

http://liftoff.msfc.nasa.gov/realtime/JTrack/3d/JTrack3d.html

This site is a real-time image of the known satellite's orbits, from here you can visit other sites with images of specific satellites.

If I recall correctly, there is no need for "Plugins". Just a Netscape 4.x browser, or the equivalent.

ENJOY!!
