Hi,

Good points. But I did answer this specific question - twice - in detail. Check back through updates last week. The statistics argument grew from that.

But I would also like to see others add their responses to this question. Heres a stat for you. I bet there will be a far higher number of US replies saying 'yes' and a far lower percentage of UK/European responses that say no spacecraft has provably (or probably) landed in their estimation.

Best wishes,

Jenny Randles
