Subject: Re: New Face on Mars

IMHO, this new "face" on Mars is the silliest thing to come down the pike since the diehards buried their heads in the sand when confronted with NASA's new images of the original face.

I do see this new face, in the same fashion in which I see "faces" in the cumulus clouds that pass overhead, if I allow my imagination to do so.

This strikes me as much ado about nothing.
