Subject: Roger Sandell Memorial Essay Competition

In memory of the life and work of Roger Sandell, who died in January 1996, Magonia has instituted a regular essay competition with a prize of GBP 100 (USD 160) for an essay in a field related to Roger's interests.

Enties are now invited for the second competition, which has the broad theme of:

The Media, Vision and Belief.

This can be interpreted in the widest sense, and could include media coverage of specific phenomena or beliefs; how the media shapes contemporary beliefs; how the media contributes to public understanding (or misunderstanding) of anomalous events or beliefs; or any other aspect of media interaction with the topics covered in Magonia magazine. This list is not intended to be comprehensive, and potential entrants are invited to contact the editor of Magonia to discuss if a proposed topic would be suitable.

Entry is open to all, except those listed as editors of Magonia in the current issue.

Each entry must be the original and unpublished work of the entrant, and must not be submitted elsewhere for award or publication before 31st October 1999.

Entries must be between 4000 and 5000 words, not including notes and references, but lengthy footnotes should be avoided. Entries must be typed, double spaced, on one side of A4 paper, with a separate sheet giving the title and the entrant's name and address.

Entries must be posted to John Rimmer, John Dee Cottage, 5 James Terrace, London SW14 8HB, UK, in time to be received by 31st September 1999. Entries sent on disc, by fax or e-mail are not acceptable.

Entries will be judged by John Rimmer, John Harney and Peter Rogerson, and the winner will receive a prize of 100 pounds ($160). No correspondence will be entered into. The judges reserve the right to withhold the prize if they consider that no entry reaches a sufficiently high standard.

The winning entry will be published in Magonia. The editors may wish to publish other entries by agreement with the authors.
